THE EAGLE

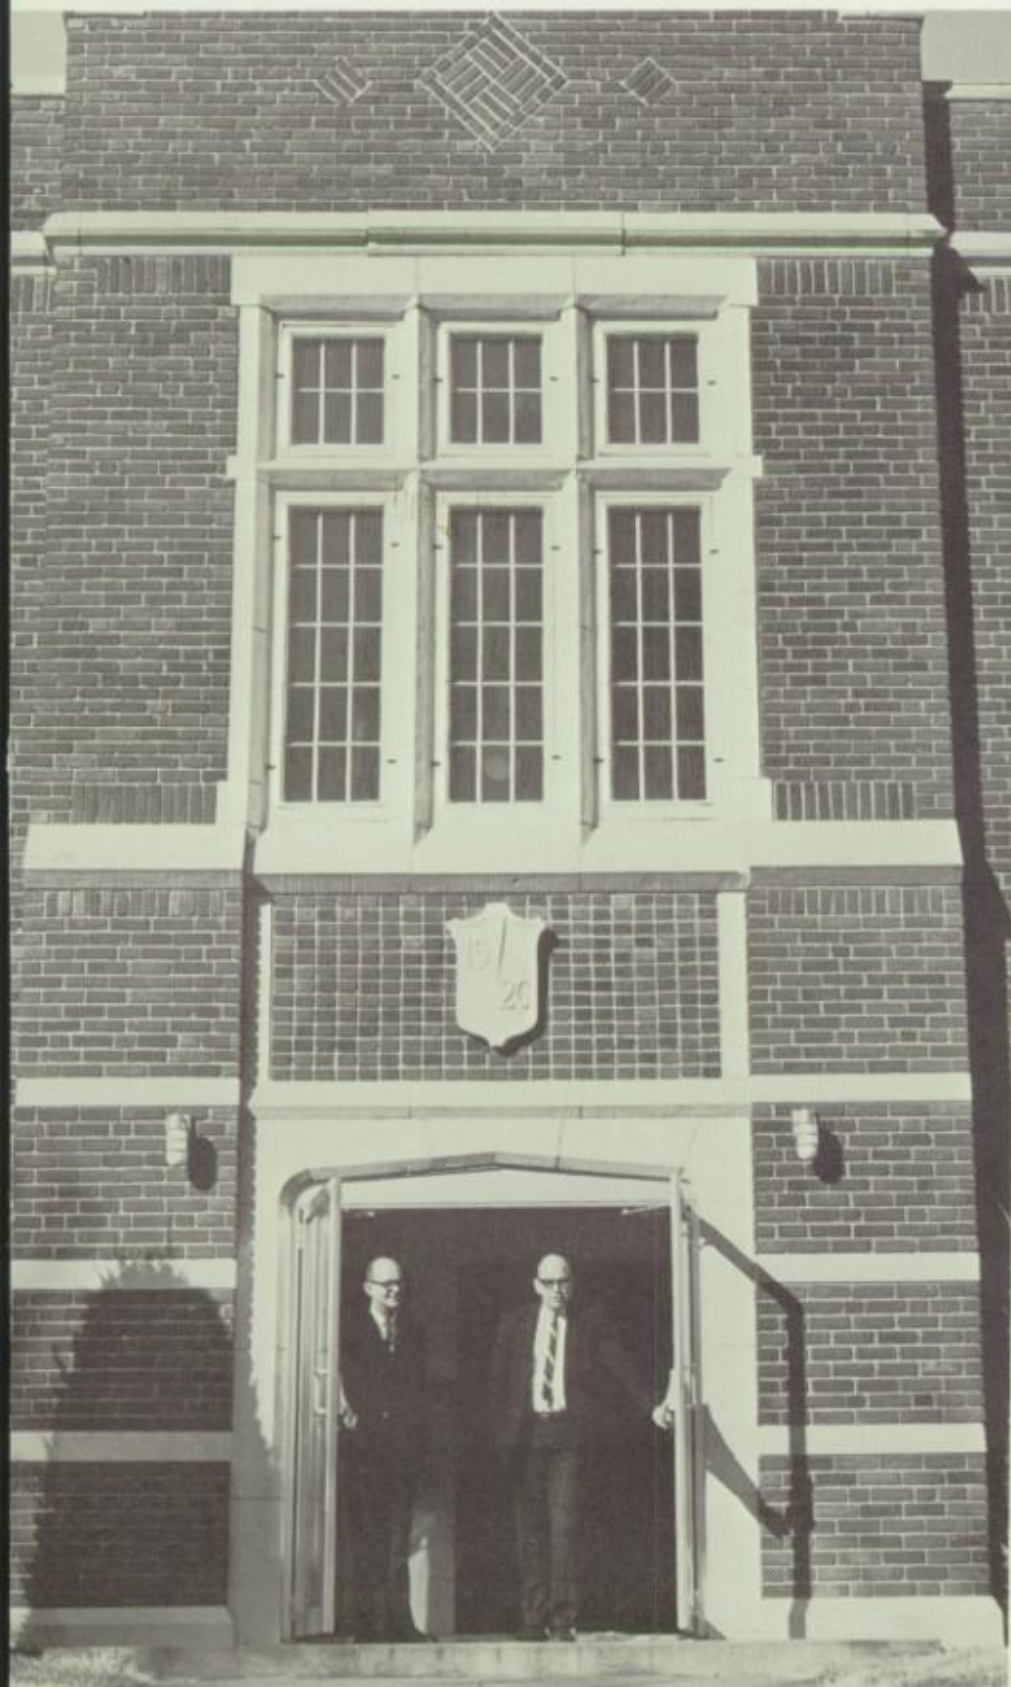

THE EAGLE

ELLINWOOD, KANSAS

1963—1964

DEDICATION

Once in every student's lifetime he meets a person possessing several admirable qualities such as: honesty, humbleness, unselfishness, dedication, patience, understanding, knowledge, and friendliness. Several ERHS students are confident they know such a person.

In an effort to publicly recognize such an individual, the 1963-1964 EAGLE is dedicated to JOHN BANMAN, director of the instrumental and vocal music departments at ERHS for 12 years.

In a sense John is a representative of his colleagues at our school. Although some instructors excel in the knowledge of their subject matter, or in areas of patience and understanding, or in dedication, humbleness, and unselfishness, it is commonly felt that John Banman reveals all these qualities.

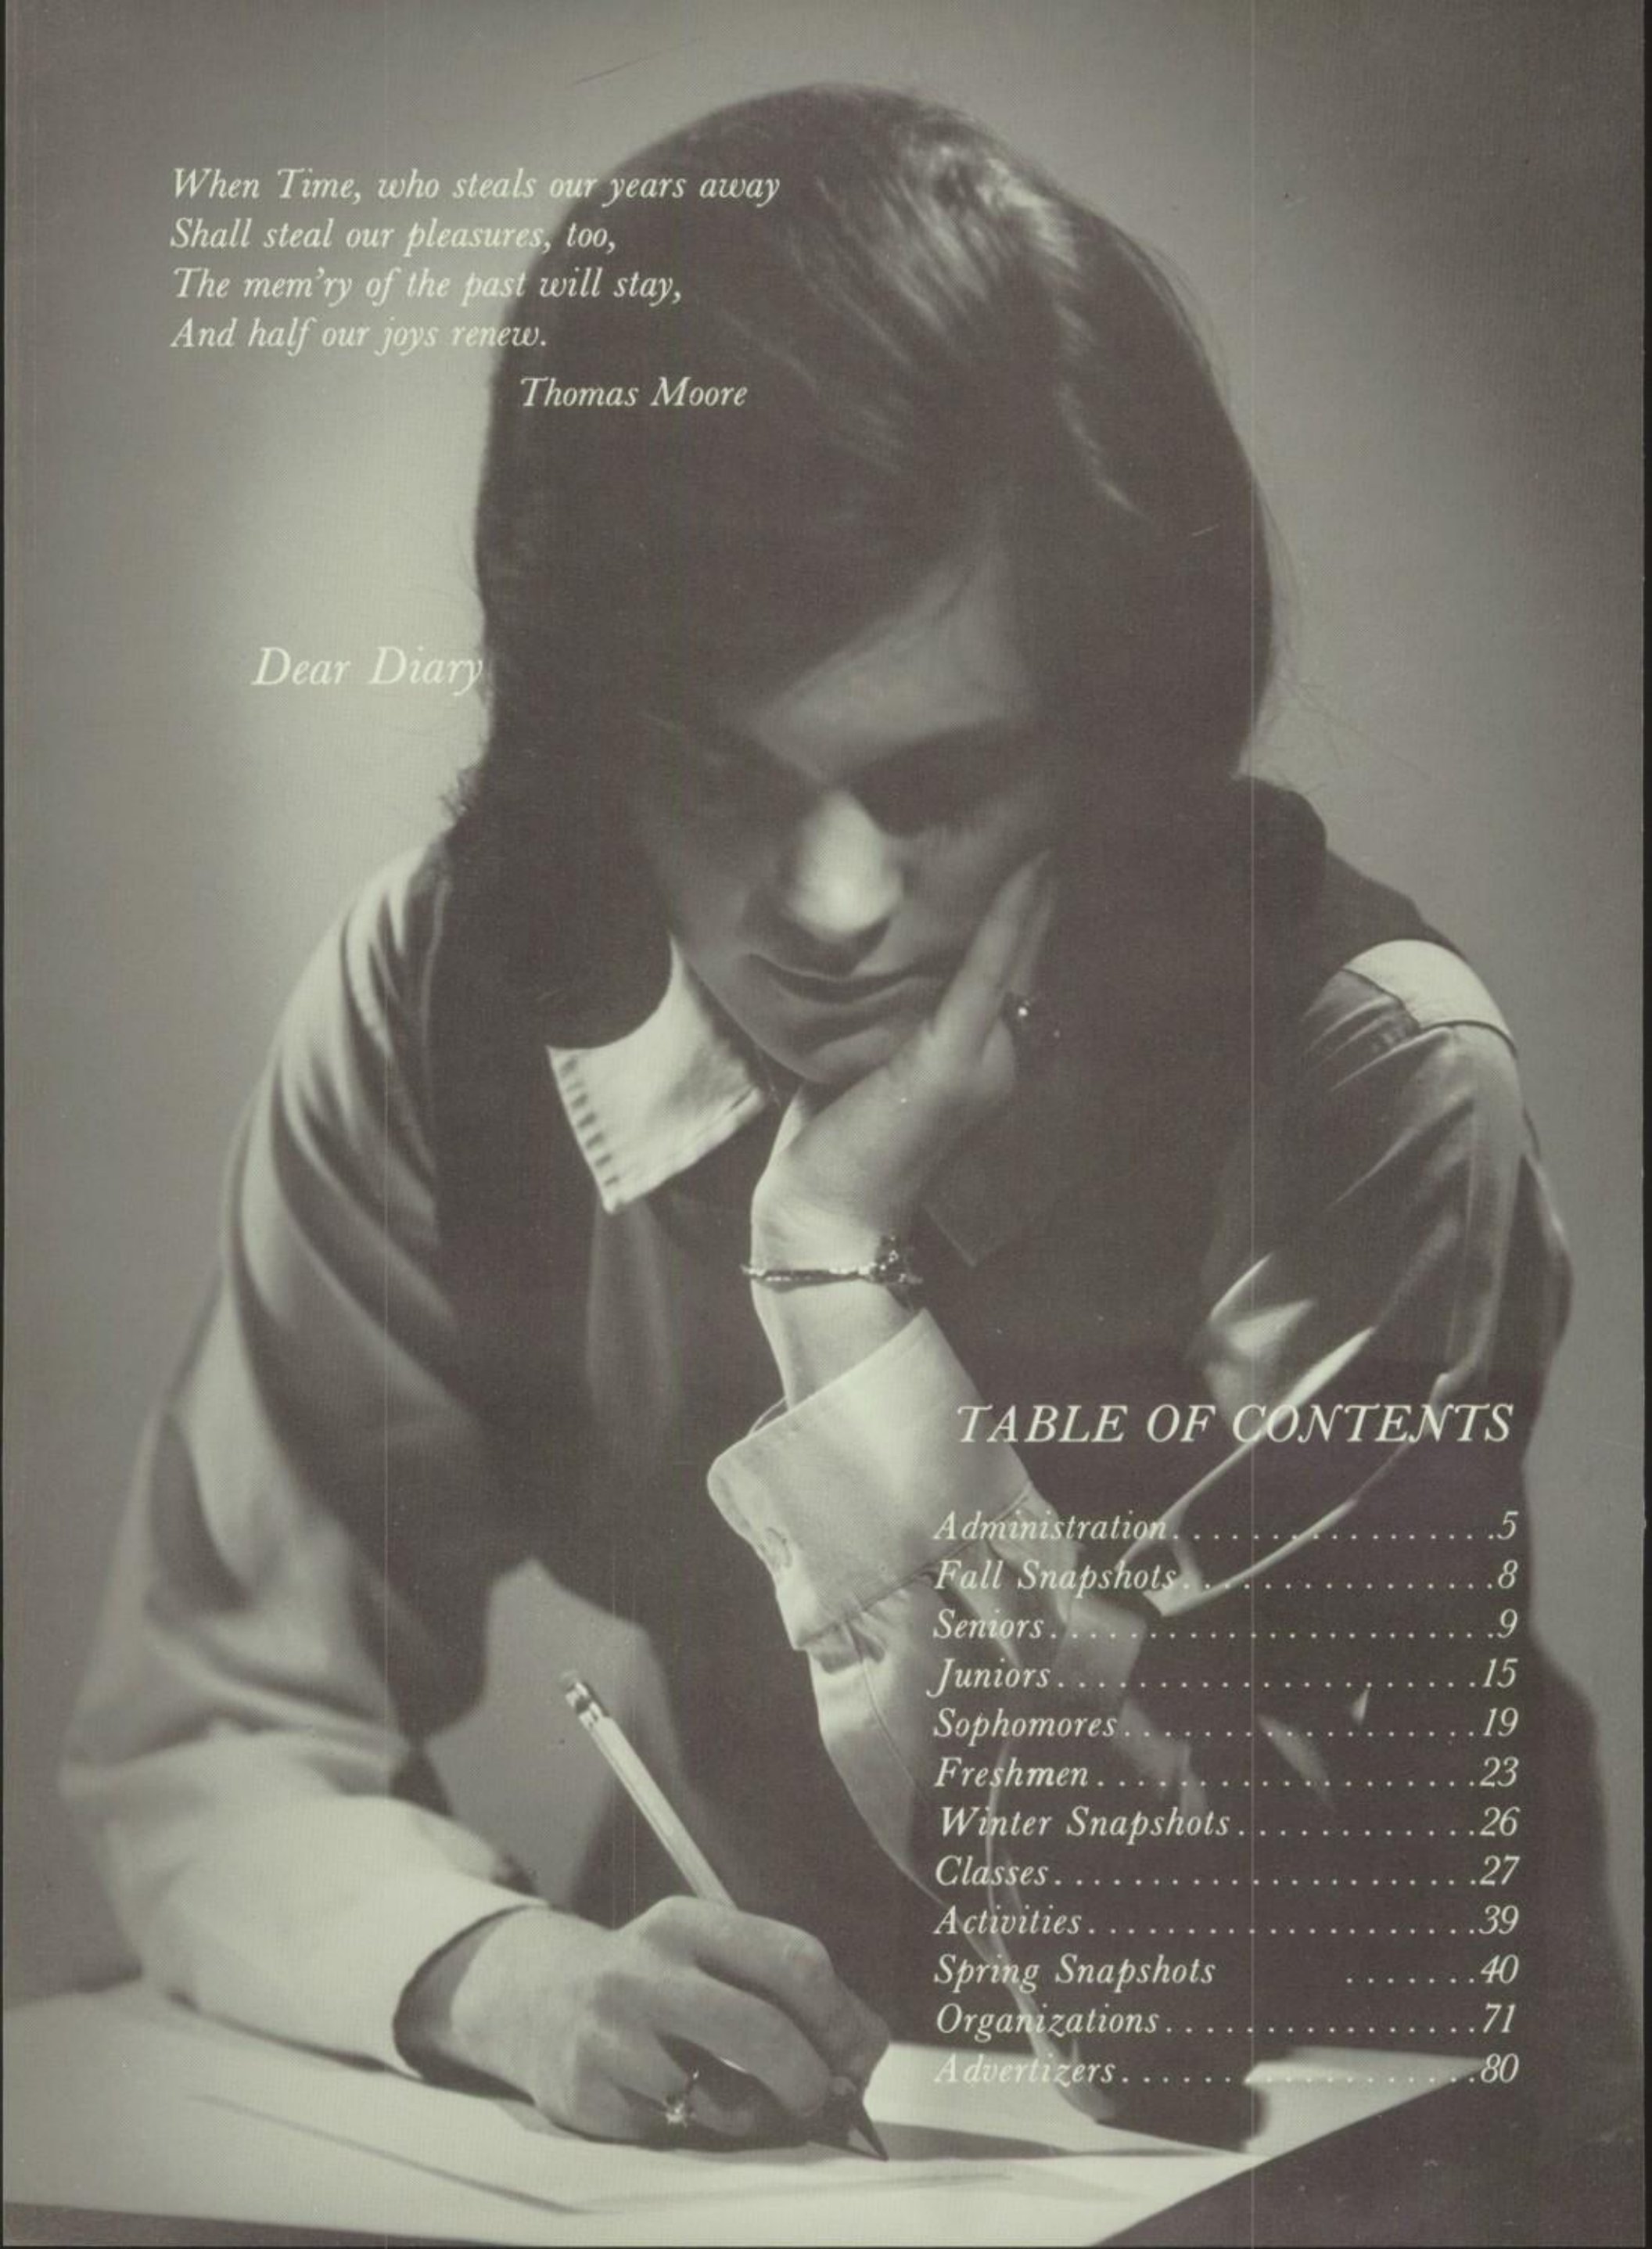

Because of the personal interest John takes in the student body and the outstanding example he sets for both the faculty and students, this yearbook is dedicated to him.

FOREWORD

Through our toils and exertions we have striven to present a pictorial composite of ERHS events for the 1963-64 school year.

We sincerely hope that this edition of the EAGLE will serve as an immeasurable gift to enable all to re-discover the memorable events of the past.

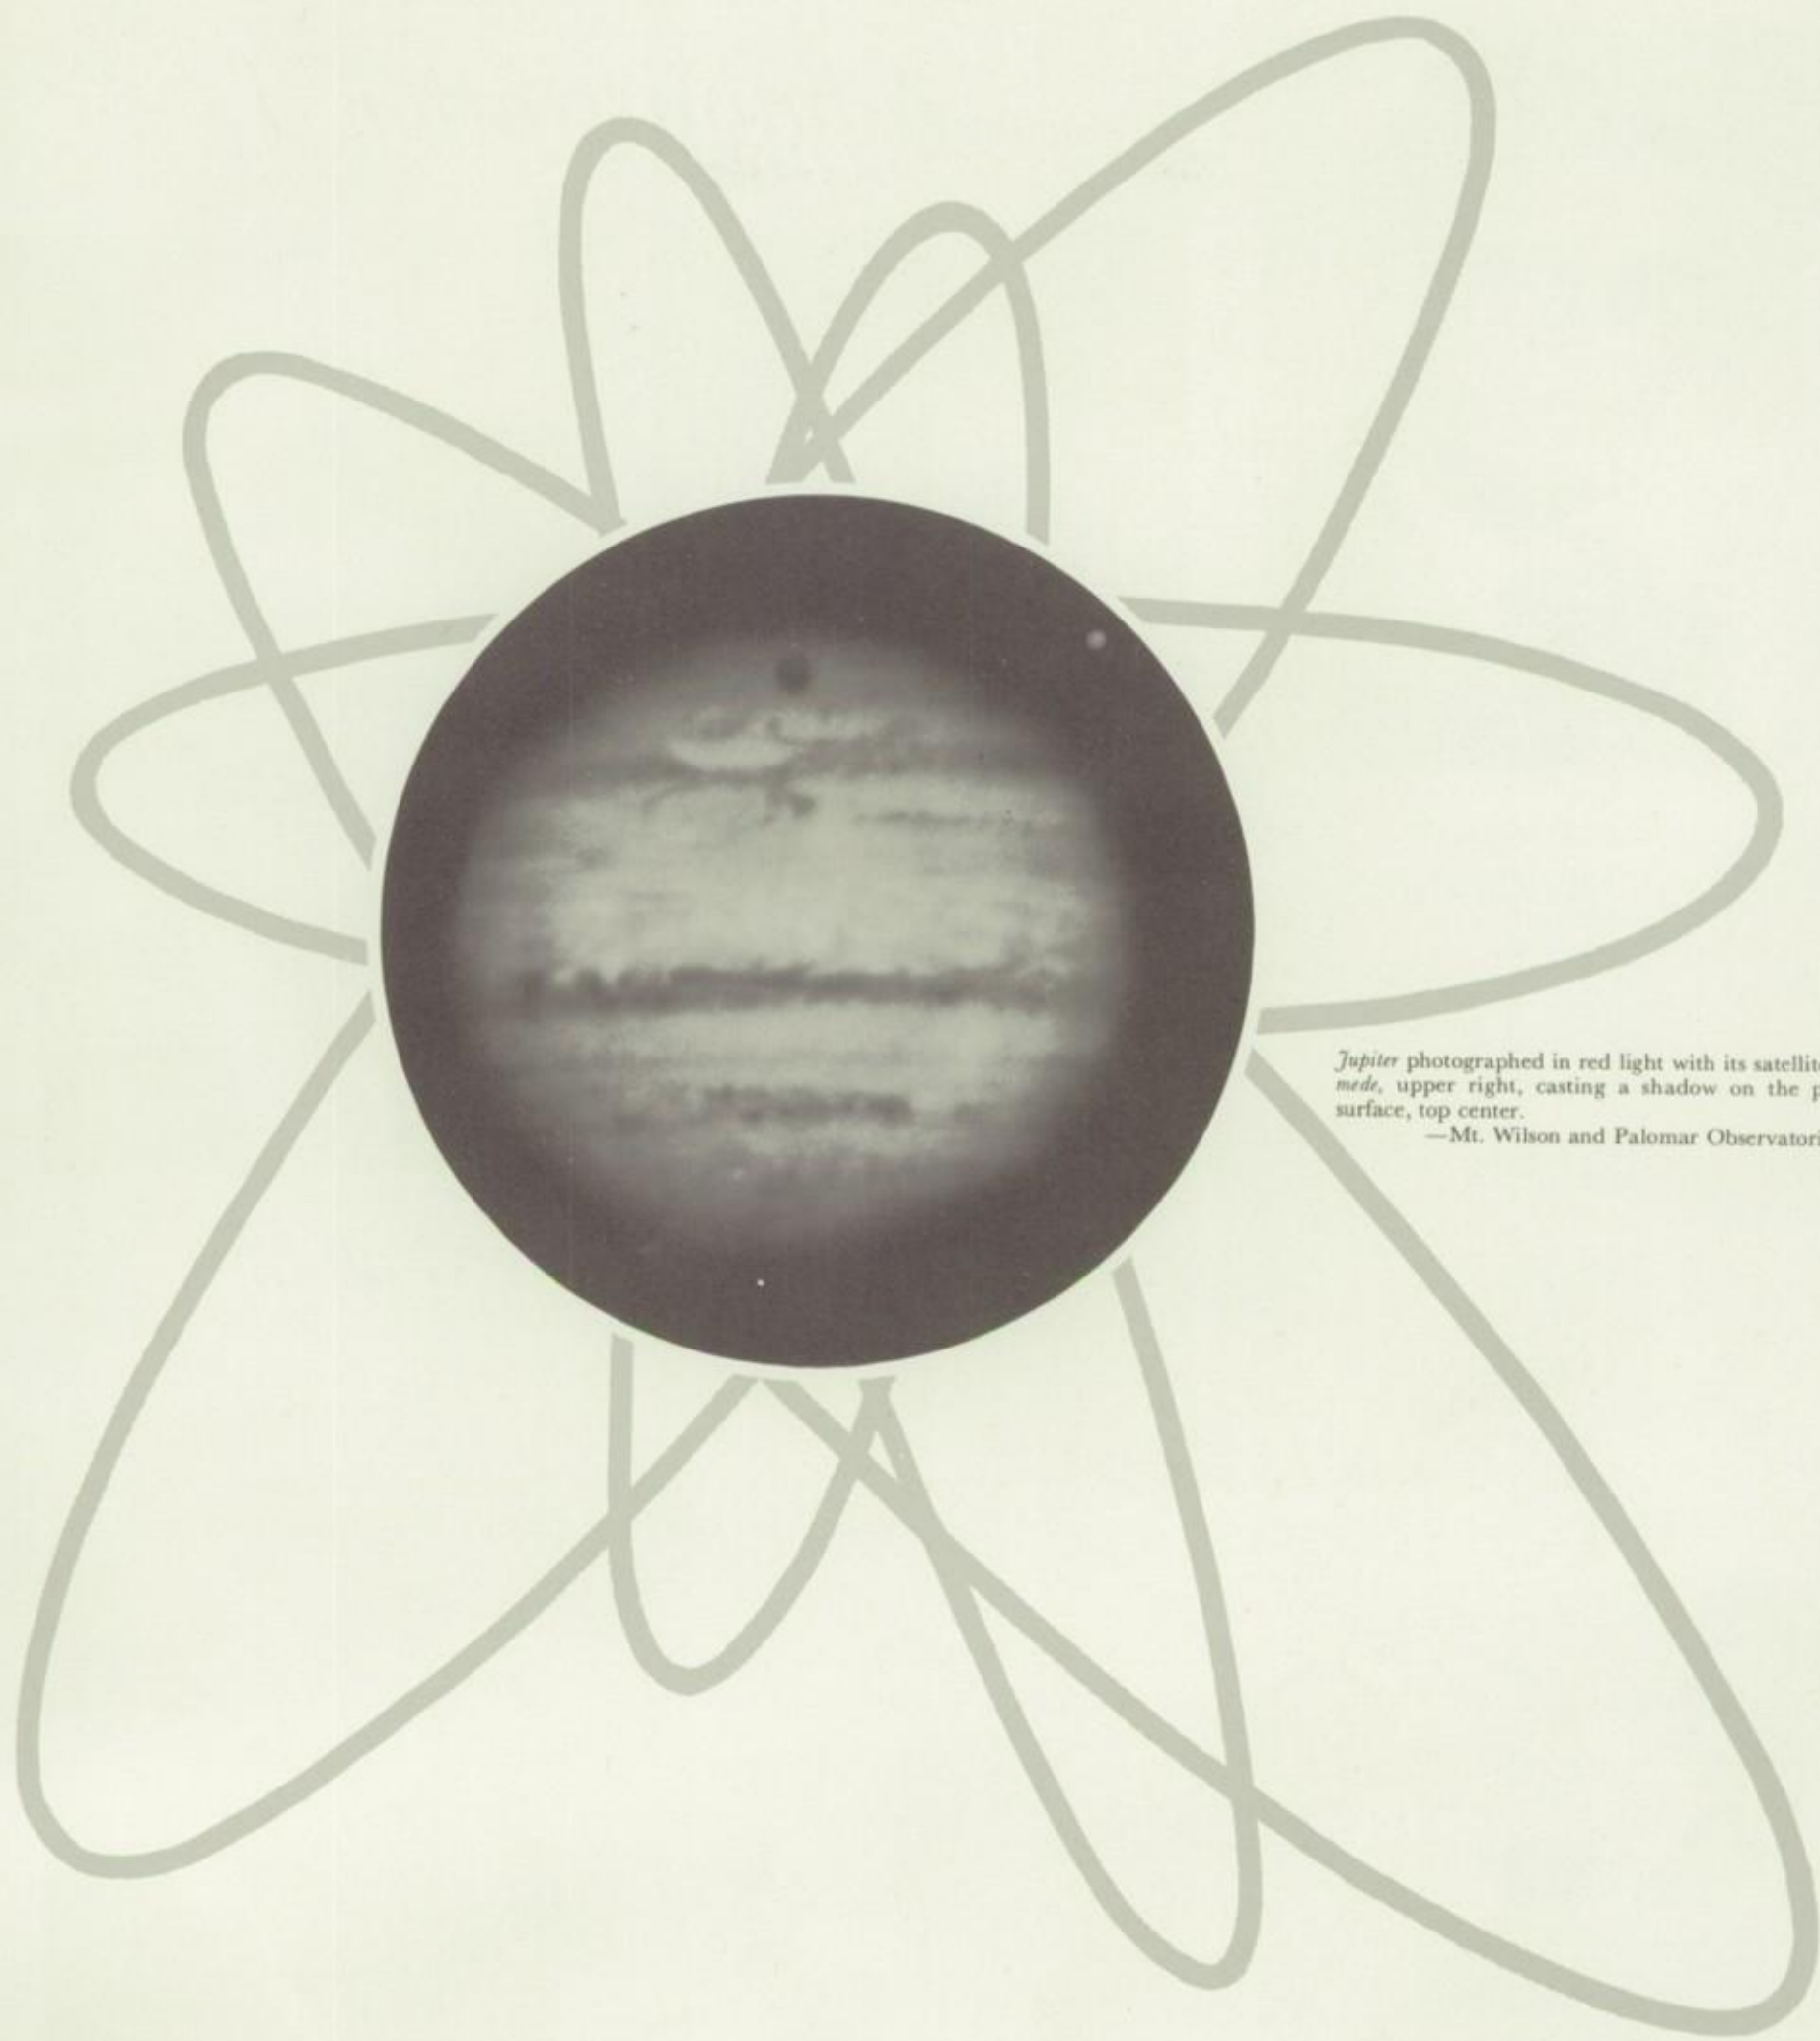

*When Time, who steals our years away
Shall steal our pleasures, too,
The mem'ry of the past will stay,
And half our joys renew.*

Employees

A school consists not only of students and teachers but of many others who serve food, provide heat, light, and other valuable services to make it a complete unit. ERHS has been fortunate to have a loyal and faithful staff for these purposes. They worked long hours to complete their tasks. They shall always be a part of every student's memory.

CLASSES

English Department

In our world today, it is necessary for us to have an adequate vocabulary to communicate with others. It is impossible for us to converse with others through writing and speech unless we have a grasp of the fundamentals with which to express these ideas. Alice Noone, Mary and Chris Hildenbrand have taught their students these principles.

According to many foreign language scholars, English is by far the most difficult language spoken today.

Sophomores give rapt attention.

Although many students listen to the voice of learning, a few try to block it out.

Some people not only advertise flunking, they work at it.

Language Department

To understand many subjects, it has become necessary for students to take at least one year of a foreign language. Here in ERHS, students can choose between Latin and Spanish. The former is being offered for four years and is taught by Marcella Stitt. Spanish is offered for two years and is taught by Wilbur Hogg.

Latin and Spanish aid students in understanding many English words and to appreciate better the influence these languages have on our society.

Spanish classes take on the appearance of aviation classes.

Science Department

Science is important to all of us. The world has been given new communication devices such as Telestar and other space crafts. Science has also afforded us many new weapons based on scientific knowledge.

Through chemistry and general science, Norma Auernheimer, has brought her students to a closer understanding of atoms and their molecular structure.

Under Robert Robins' guidance, students have learned to classify, name, and examine many living organisms.

Even though great advances have been made in science, there are many unsolved problems that have to be answered and soon these problems will be ours. First we must learn the fundamentals of the respective branches of scientific learning.

Math Department

Mathematics is used daily in many basic ways and is one of the most useful divisions of human knowledge.

Barbara Jordan teaches algebra and physics students that formulas and figures are necessary if they are to understand the course.

Roger Stremel is preparing students for the future by teaching them the fundamentals of geometry and trigonometry.

Math is said to be the gate and the key to science. If we are to unlock the secrets of science, we have to grasp our math.

Social Science

To better understand the society in which we live, we have to understand more thoroughly how our government operates.

William Baughman has acquainted constitution classes with Communism by providing a six-week period to study the theories and how they work. He also acquainted them with the state governments by taking out a day and showing them the State Capitol Building and letting them see first hand how the legislature operates.

Jack Bowman has tried to familiarize students with the many countries of the world. He has taught them that the countries are theirs to visit through books. The students have learned what these countries produce to export and what they need to import.

Students Prepare For The Future

According to many ERHS students, the library is the most appealing room in school. Here students may acquire the latest gossip, catch up on their rest, or simply study.

There are those who find the library a laboratory of preparation for the future. It is a place where one may go to concentrate and study.

According to a survey taken in the spring of 1964, the ERHS library ranked ahead of all the schools in the CPL league. For this we have to thank the Librarian, Administration, School Board, and the tax payers for equipping us with such excellent facilities.

Business Education Department

ERHS offers seven courses in its Business Education Department. Bookkeeping, an elective for seniors only, meets the needs of college-bound business majors, while additional consideration is given to such items as budgeting, social security, and income tax reporting for the terminal student. Another elective for both juniors and seniors is Business Economics, a course designated to explain the free enterprise system such as ours today. Business Math, offered only to freshmen, is a course with emphasis on the development of usable skills in the fundamental processes. Office Practice is a course that is defined by its name and is offered only to seniors. Typing I, offered to all but freshmen, builds skill and competence in personal and vocational typing. Shorthand I for juniors and seniors develops skill in the use of the Gregg system. Advanced Typing and Shorthand, for seniors, stresses additional typing, filing, and machine operation.

Two electives in the applied arts division rank highly with many students. They are: Home Economics taught by Bertha Achelpohl, and Vocational Agriculture under the direction of John Cragun.

In Home Economics many hours are spent teaching girls to make stylish clothes and prepare foods. The course helps prepare them for the future by introducing them to the various aspects of home management.

The Vo-Ag department trains young men to become more effective workers in the field of agriculture. The students receive instruction in farm management, maintenance of machinery, and techniques in the judging of seeds, plants, and livestock, as well as other important phases.

No doubt the memories of class associations and the valuable lessons learned by students in both departments will linger for many years. Certainly both instructors hope this will be the situation.

Parents are urged to arrange a conference with a counselor whenever they want to discuss the educational progress or the educational and occupational plans of their teenagers.

The counselors make use of various types of information during the conferences. Such information includes tests, inventories, and information obtained through discussions with the student.

Applied Arts courses give students training for life. Woodworking Class spends its time making new furniture, refinishing old, and increasing the knowledge of the students in the use of power equipment. General Metals is a course intended to give an insight and appreciation of metal working processes and metal products. Mechanical Drawing helps students develop and strengthen their technical imagination and to think and visualize accurately and quickly in three dimensions. Building Trades gives a student practical experience in problems concerning the construction industry.

The Ellinwood Football Eagles compiled a 3-5-1 record for 1963. Handicapped once again by a lack of size in both the line and backfield, the Eagles always managed to give a good accounting of themselves with their inspirational play.

The season's opener against non-league Lakin was played in a four inch downpour of rain, with neither team able to determine an advantage. The Eagles gained respect from all CPL teams as they trudged along not quite able to topple League Champion, Sterling, or runner-up, Ellsworth. The season ended on a dismal note, as arch-rival Lyons knocked the Eagles out of a third place finish with a 26-0 defeat.

Eight seniors, including seven starters, hang up their cleats, having finished their high school careers. The Eagles were a credit to both the school and community as they displayed sportsmanship both on and off the field.

Juniors Present

"Bachelor Father"

On December 3 and 5 a comedy, entitled "Bachelor Father," was presented by the Junior Class of Ellinwood Rural High School under the direction of Wilbur Hogg. This comedy was a conflict between the boys and girls of a certain high school concerning the location of the Junior-Senior Prom.

Cast of Characters included: L. Tindall, P. Hershey, J. Oberle, S. Thompson, L. Hirsch, V. Hammeke, M. Richardson, T. Habiger, L. Berger, V. Flakus, B. Wilkerson, S. Carey, J. Murphy, M. Stitt, H. "The Mouse That Roared"

The Senior Class of '64" presented a three-act comedy entitled "The Mouse That Roared" February 11 and 13. The story concerned the anxieties between the United States and a small European country, Grand Fenwick, in a war which Grand Fenwick wins.

Dramatic personnel included: S. Lamprecht, L. Krankenberg, R. Ford, M. Straub, J. Schloctermeyer, P. McQuade, M. Manning, S. Hammeke, C. Griffith, J. Taylor, N. Poland, B. Carlson, M. Meyer, G. ACTIVE! In a word this describes the sixty-eight piece ERHS band for 1963-64. The group participated at the Kansas State Fair in Hutchinson, provided half-time entertainment for the Kansas Wesleyan-College of Emporia football game at Salina, attended the Lindsborg band clinic, and traveled to Larned for the District Music Festival, where it earned a "I" rating.

On the home front this musical organization performed intricate maneuvers at all home football games, boosted enthusiasm at pep rallies and basketball games, and presented Spring and Christmas Concerts.

DRUM QUINTET: This unique ensemble acquired a "II" at District. The percussionists included: P. Nix, V. Flakus, S. Dick, L. Griffin, and L. Hiskett.

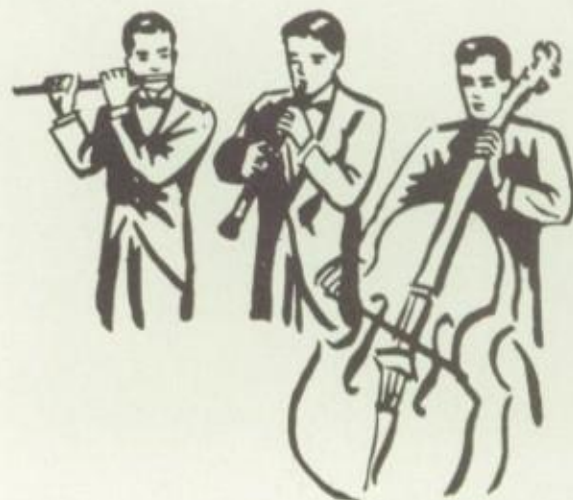

HORN QUARTET: The members of the Horn Quartet, D. Scheufler, S. Carey, G. Gray, and D. Schartz, received a "III" rating at the District Music Festival.

BAND

The key organization for the instrumental ensembles is the band. The smaller musical groups include: Drum Quintet, Horn Quartet, Stage Band, Sax Sextet, Flute Quartet, Clarinet Choir, Trombone Quartet, and Brass Choir.

The Stage Band, a select group, provided appropriate music for the Stafford and Kingman Junior-Senior Proms. They also presented a combined concert with the Mixed Chorus in the spring. The members include: C. Griffith, L. Courtney, D. Schartz, T. Matthews, M. Meyer, K. Carter, P. Komarek, C. Francis, S. Hildebrand, D. Morgan, M. Cusick, D. Thompson, J. Scheufler, F. Hartenbower, J. Shackelford, J. Sieker, R. Ford, M. Higgins, M. Stitt, and S. Dick.

Instrumental Organizations

SAX SEXTET: Composed of T. Matthews, C. Griffith, D. Schartz, M. Meyer, K. Carter, and L. Courtney, the sax sextet enjoyed playing both popular and classical music. Performing at the spring concert and receiving a "II" at District accentuated its yearly performances.

FLUTE QUARTET: Four talented flutists, M. Marchand, L. Graham, B. Carlson, and M. Meyer, journeyed to the District Music Festival where they received a second division rating.

CLARINET CHOIR: The clarinet family has the widest range of any family instruments. Comprised of fourteen members, this standard group obtained a "II" at District Music Festival.

BRASS CHOIR: A "II" rating at the District was acquired by the fifteen members of the brass choir.

TROMBONE QUARTET: The members of this quartet, C. Francis, P. Komarek, S. Hildebrand, and M. Cusick, obtained a "II" at District Music Festival in Lamed.

MIXED CLARINET QUARTET: This group consists of three B^b clarinets and one bass clarinet. It held the distinct honor of earning a "I" rating at both the District and State Music Festivals. J. Oberle, B. Wilkerson, L. Colvin, and V. Komarek were the musicians in the ensemble.

MIXED ENSEMBLE, functioning to provide musical entertainment for both civic and school functions, sang at the Christmas and Spring Concerts. Earning a "I" rating at District entitled the ensemble to participate in the State Music Festival where it received a "II".

MIXED

CHORUS

The highly rated MIXED CHORUS, composed of eighty-three interested music students, prepared and presented for the public two concerts of great choral music this year. The Chorus accented the Christmas Season with their annual Christmas Concert. The climax of the year was the Spring Concert. The singing of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" at graduation rounded out the year. The diligent work of the Chorus was rewarded when it received a highly superior rating at the District Music Festival.

BOYS' QUARTET discovered fun of harmony, barbershop, and rhythm songs this year. This newly formed ensemble sang at the annual Kayette Formal and numerous other school activities. The members of this group, P. Komarek, R. Kimple, D. Myers, and V. Berger, obtained a "I" at District and a "III" at the State Music Festival.

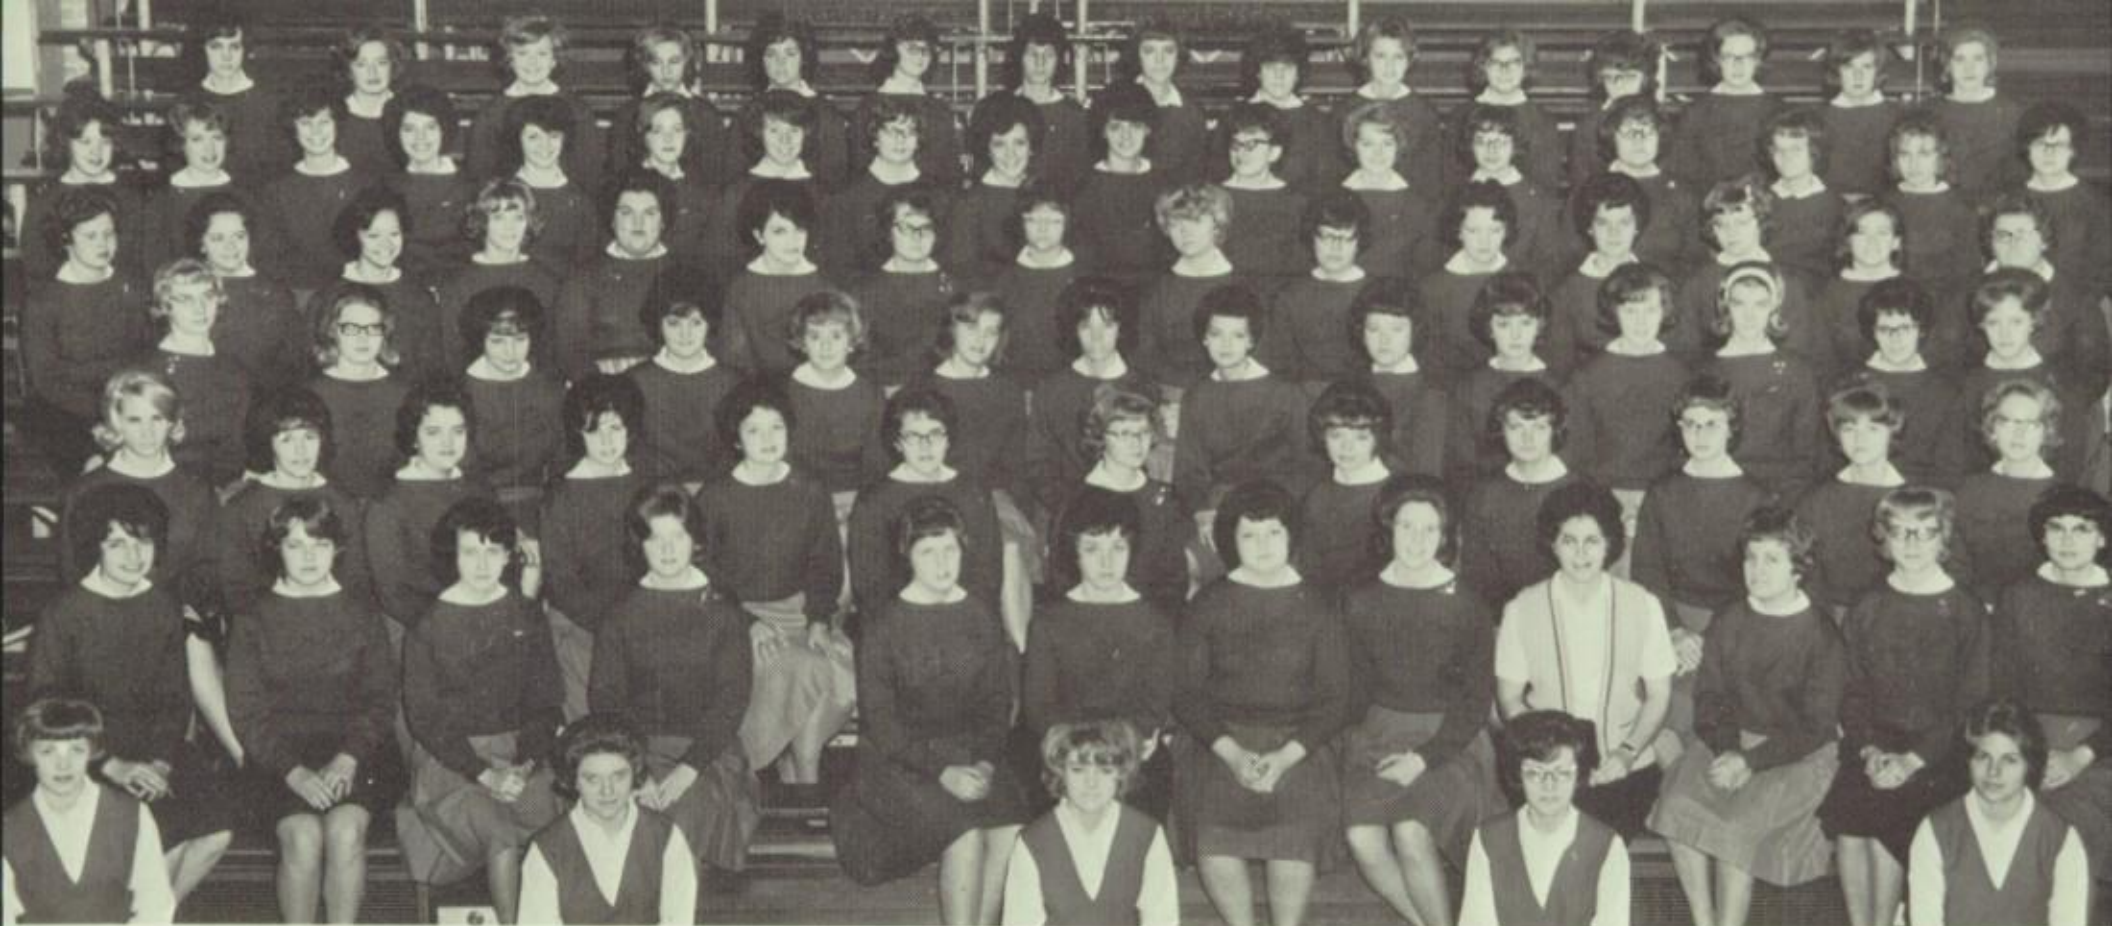

GIRLS' QUARTET was a credit to the ERHS Music Department. In addition to performing at several school and civic functions, this quartet achieved top ratings at both District and State. J. Oberle, S. Carey, J. Scheufler, and D. Scheufler were the members in this outstanding ensemble.

GIRLS' ENSEMBLE was composed of fifteen female voices. Activities of this select group included singing at the Christmas and Spring Concerts, and receiving "I" ratings at both the District and State Music Festivals.

ROCKETTES

The pep club, under the direction of Miss Sire, is organized to arouse enthusiasm among the student body at all athletic functions. Many long hours were spent planning and decorating for its main project homecoming.

The officers for 1963-64 included: D. Scheufler, president; P. Davis, vice president; S. Ballantine, secretary; and J. Scheufler, publicity.

E.A.T. BOARD

Ten members compose the Board of Directors for the Ellinwood Association for Teenagers. These members are elected each for two-year terms. Their main duty is to sponsor the "Eagles Nest" on Friday nights the year round. This year they sponsored the homecoming dance and the "out-of-school dance," a new idea this year.

The Student Council, an elected body whose members are chosen by the individual classes, is sponsored by George Cusick. The officers for 1963-64 were: Jim Harris, president; Mike Cusick, vice president; and Donna Wilson, secretary treasurer. Purpose of the organization is to represent the respective classes in a recognized administrative body.

STUDENT COUNCIL

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club, an affiliate of the Junior Classical League, was host at the National Convention at K.U. last summer. This summer they will journey to the University of Illinois, Champaign, Illinois.

This year the club celebrated the anniversary of Vergil, a Roman poet. Latin Week, proclaimed by the mayor, was observed by a parade and the display of members' projects. The events of Latin Week concluded with a banquet held to elect the King, Mike Cusick, and Queen, Janie Taylor. They reigned over the "Underworld," theme of the banquet.

LIBRARY PAGES

Three main reasons for the Library Pages' organization are to learn as much about libraries as possible, to do at least one important thing for the school, and to have some fun. Their biggest accomplishment this year came in selling admission tickets to the junior high athletic games.

Once a month a meeting was held to discuss important matters concerning the organization. In the fall the group sponsored a rush party and an initiation for new members.

Each spring the club makes an annual trip to an important library in Kansas.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club aims to increase its knowledge of science, to perfect skills in science, give service in the community and nation, understand the importance of science and to help carry out the program of Science Clubs of America.

At the beginning of the year, each member chose a famous scientist and at each meeting reported on one. Every third Monday of each school month the organization held meetings to give individual and class demonstrations. The major project this year was the construction of an electric furnace for making a solar cell.

"And we'll have fun, fun, fun till
 Daddy takes the tractor away. "

FFA

Future Farmers of America is an organization of, by, and for boys studying agriculture. They have held numerous activities this past year. Attending initiation was the State Secretary, Roger Teter. The members participated in several judging contests, the tractor rodeo, and the State Convention held in Manhattan.

At the Parent & Son Banquet, awards of medals and ribbons were presented for ratings in FFA contests. Two honorary chapter farmers, two fathers who had contributed the most to the organization, were also elected.

J. Cragun, sponsor; N. Johanning, A. Hammeke, J. Jordon enjoy a delicious supper consisting of pheasant from their Duck and Pheasant Feed.

"Wonder what I do now," ponders D. Long.

Does everybody have to watch?

J. Taylor and K. Sauber look over the five Cerebral Palsy victims that the Kayettes are sponsoring.

S. Lamprecht and T. Matthews of the Physical Education II Class provided the entertainment for the Kayette Formal.

Kayettes

Eleven members and their sponsor, Miss Bertha Achelpohl, comprise the Kayette Board. The main function of the organization is to learn to serve the school, community, and world better.

The organization, open to all girls in high school, accomplished its goal of a 2,000-point award. To attain this goal they held their annual Kayette formal in December, their Cerebral Palsy drive, their Dad and Daughter Social, and the installation of new officers held in May.

Queen Carol Hauser, King John Luebbers and their attendants reign over the "Snowflake Ball."

D. Scheufler, J. Scheufler, and J. Oberle sing "The K Song" after the installation of new officers.

K. Sauber gives her job of Program Chairman to S. Carey.

Good turn out for this year's ice cream social
